POWERED BY WOMEN UNITED

Since 2018, these local programs and initiatives have been made possible through support from Women United members and Power of the Purse.

Expanding our efforts to elevate and strengthen women and United Way of Greater New Bedford's commitment to economic stability, Women United teamed up with Women's Money Matters to offer a comprehensive financial literacy program for women. To date, three cohorts of women have gone through the program with each participant's journey being supported by a 1:1 volunteer coach. The expansion of our literacy work to include financial literacy for women is rooted in the belief that a foundation of core money management skills paired with the tools and confidence to do it, can transform women's lives.
